TRENTON, NJ – With Republicans poised to take control of the Governor's Office this November, members of the New Jersey Republican State Committee last night unanimously elected Morris County Assemblyman Jay Webber as State Chairman at the re-organization meeting in New Brunswick. Chairman Jay Webber issued the following statement today:

"New Jersey knows that leadership does matter. It makes a real difference who controls the State House and we owe it to the 8.5 million people who call New Jersey home to provide common-sense solutions to lower taxes, cut spending and bring jobs back to New Jersey. I am honored and excited to stand with Chris Christie and join him in the fight to bring our state back and ensure success up and down the ticket this November."
